Nexamp,

Nexamp Recruiting,

I believe that I would be an ideal candidate for your team due my blend of experience and skills. I've been working for Segra as a NOC Analyst, which is fast paced environment where we have to continually learn new skills and technologies as they are integrated into the multi-state network. I earned a Bachelors Degree in Computer Science at the University of South Carolina, where I gained extensive experience using Java, C#, C++, Python, and React/Angular. Among the degree requirements was completing a senior project, a fully functioning mobile application developed as a team of students, which we built in Ionic-Angular. I believe this experience has prepared me for the challenges of this IT Network Engineer position, and I would be an asset to your team.

Sincerely yours,

Justin Brown
